

LIEUT. CLAY FOUND IN LOUISIANA TOWN

Fevered Wanderings of the Son of Late Senator Clay Traced by Searching Party in Auto.

New Orleans, January 18.—Second Lieutenant Frank B. Clay, of the Seventeenth infantry, U. S. A., who had been missing since December 29, today was located at Melvill, St. James parish, Louisiana, by Sheriff O. Goff. He was ill with fever when found and apparently had been in that condition since his disappearance from here. Herbert Clay, of Marietta, Ga., a brother of the officer, who had been searching for him, was at Lutcher, La., when notified of the whereabouts of Lieutenant Clay, and left for Melvill tonight. Tomorrow he will accompany the officer to New Orleans, where Frank will be placed in a hospital. The search for Lieutenant Clay began a week ago with the arrival of friends from Atlanta, who came here in the request of members of his family. The officer recently had returned from foreign service in the Philippines, and was on his way to Atlanta. He spent several days in New Orleans and wrote relatives the latter part of December he would arrive home within a few days. His non-arrival and the fact that he did not further communicate with them, resulted in the search having been instituted. Lieutenant Clay's movements in New Orleans were traced until December 29, but nothing further was learned until the discovery of a packet of letters left by him near Reserve, a hamlet in St. James parish, indicated he had been in that vicinity. Residents along the highway between New Orleans and Reserve remembered having seen a man answering his description making his way northward on foot, and further inquiry today by parish authorities resulted in his discovery.

DIGGING FOR BODIES FOR THE VICTIMS

Many Persons Are Found Alive—Dogs Are Killed to Keep Them From Bodies of the Dead.

Rome, January 18.—The injured in the earthquake gradually are regaining their composure and leading a life of laborers in an endeavor to ameliorate conditions in the ruined towns.

Food supplies and clothing have been distributed nearly everywhere and the construction of temporary housing of the homeless. Work in the line is being carried forward as rapidly as possible. Today many persons were rescued alive in numerous towns from beneath the debris of fallen buildings where they had been without food or water for six days.

Nineteen were taken alive from the ruins at Avezzano today, six of whom it is impossible to state with accuracy the number of lives lost or more than estimate the monetary damage. One official estimate places the loss at above $600,000.

Subscriptions are being raised throughout Italy and the people are responding generously. The king again has come into the picture. The queen Helena today sent a train load of foodstuffs and supplies to the stricken towns. Members of the royal family are engaged in relief work. The king's son, Prince Umberto, is in the front line, among those who were in the relief work.

At Avezzano all the dogs had been killed because they had been found in the debris among the bodies of the dead. At several places, however, and parties have been formed, who work to exterminate them. In some cases the dogs were killed by the police, but they even attacked automobiles on the roads.

PRESIDENT WILSON.

Washington, January 18.—President Wilson received a cablegram today thanking him for sympathy expressed after the recent earthquake in Italy.

The message was very much of the expression of sympathy which have been occasioned. Please accept with our warmest regards the sympathy of the Italian people.

President Wilson would accept aid from the United States and the sufferers still were awaiting today by the Red Cross, said the Italian government, estimated the number of persons killed at approximately 25,000. The message, it was said, was the international aid.

BUSINESS IMPROVING, MORGAN TELLS WILSON

New York Financier Says Betterment in General Trade Is Marked.

Washington, January 18.—J. P. Morgan today told President Wilson that there had been a marked improvement in general trade conditions as affecting international exchange and the increase in exports to Europe had increased greatly American indebtedness to Europe.

Mr. Morgan mentioned the credit of $12,000,000 recently established by the Russian government in the United States through Mr. Morgan's banking firm and explained that there was to be no direct loan of money to the Russian government. On leaving the white house, he said the arrangements for the credit loan to the government have been offered to the government as a part of the proposed federal loan connecting the coast with the coal fields.

Mr. Morgan came to Washington primarily to attend a meeting of the Federal Reserve council and to remain here until Wednesday. He called on Secretary Lane today to give him figures on the cost of operation and maintenance of the Copper River and Northwestern railroad in Alaska, which the Morgan-Duggan bank interests have offered to sell to the government as a part of the proposed federal loan connecting the coast with the coal fields.
